Indore the conference Destination

Indore City - Mini Mumbai

Indore city, is in the Madhya Pradesh state of central India. It is located in an upland area on the Saraswati and Khan rivers, which are tributaries of the Shipra River.

Indore was founded in 1715 as a trade market on the Narmada River valley route by local landowners, who erected Indreshwar Temple (1741), from which the name Indore is derived. It became the capital of the Indore princely state of the Maratha Holkars, and it was the headquarters of the British Central India Agency and the summer capital of Madhya Bharat (1948-56) state before its incorporation into Madhya Pradesh.

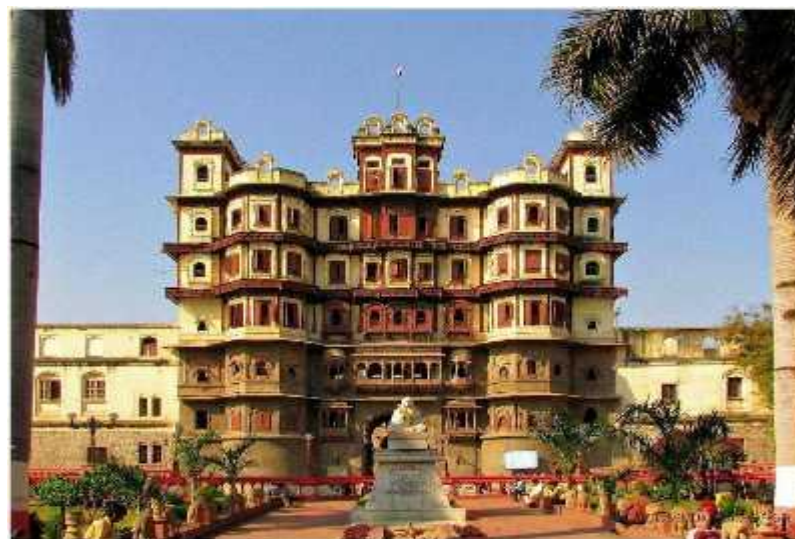

Indore is the most-populous city in the state. Major industries include the manufacture of textiles, tile, cement, chemicals, tents, furniture & sporting goods, grain milling and metalworking. There are auto and cycle workshops, engineering works and traditional industries as pottery making & hand-loom weaving are also flourishing. The city is a major road and rail junction and has an airport for domestic flights.

As Mumbai is to Maharashtra, Indore is to Madhya Pradesh. Indore and Mumbai also have some cultural similarities which is a reason behind regarding Indore as "Mini-Mumbai".

Indore is most cleanest city in India. The city is known for its street food and eateries.
